Island Part of the United States With Respect to Foreign Nations.

THEN, AGAIN, IT'S DIFFERENT.

With Respect to the United States It Is a Foreign Country, Declares Judge Townsend of New York,

New York, June 14.—Porto Rico, according to a decision which Judge William Kneeland Townsend filed to-day in the United States Circuit Court for the Southern District of New York, is a part of the United States with respect to foreign countries, but a foreign country with respect to the United States.

The decision, which was made in the case of John H. Goetze & Co. against the United Stater, in which tobacco from Porto Rico had been assessed at 35 cents a pound, under the provisions of the Dingley act, completely sustains the position of the adminis-tration. Foreign nations, it says in sub-stance, must consider Porto Rico as an integral part of the United States, but the United States have the right to treat the island as foreign soil and levy an import tax upon its products.

The decision contains about 9,000 words and is an elaborate explanation, in almost apologetic tone, of the position of the ad-inhistration.

"The question to be decided," says Judge Townsend, "is not what is expedient, not what the people of the United States may desire, not what is the duty of Congress, not a matter of individual preference; it is a presting of congressitutional law."

question of constitutional law."

After stating this view, Judge Townsend says: "That we have the power to govern without the obligation of uniform taxation, may be an unfamiliar proposition, but it is so because we have never before had occasion to use the power to the same extent. It could not have been intended by those who framed our Constitution that we should who framed our Constitution that we should be born a cripple among the nations.

"There has been found, then, no reasen, either on principle or authority, why the United States should not accept sovereignty over territory without admitting it as an integral part of the Union or making it bear the burden of the taxation uniform throughout our nation. The treaty of Faris is valid. It left the political status of the inhabitants of Porto Rico unchanged.

"Article 2 of that treaty provided that "Spain cedes to the United States the Island of Porto Rico"; article 2 provided that "the civil rights and political status of the native inhabitants of the territories hereby ceded shall be determined by the Congress."

This latter article is made the basis of the decision in affirmation of that of the Board of General Appraisers and in support of the administration's view. The decision continues:

innest:

"The treaty vests the sovereignty over the Island in the United States, but postpones changes in the relation of its people and in its relations to the body politic until Congress shall determine what relations shall be hest suited to the conditions of its inhabitants and to the welfare of the United States. Since Congress at the time of this importation had not formed this condition of incorporation the status of Porto Rico, except as to other nations, remains unchanged."

BISHOP OF ALABAMA DEAD.

He Once Refused to Pray for President Johnson.

Mobile, Ala., June 14.—Right Reverend Richard Hooker Wilmer, Episcopal Bishop of the diocese of Alabama, died here this merning, aged $4 years.

Bishop Wilmer was born in Alexandria, Va., March 15, 1816. He is remembered nationally for his recommendation to the clergy of his diocese to omit the prayer, "For the President of the United States and all the others in authority," on the ground that only a military government existed in Alabama. This was in the reconstruction times. For this he was suspended by General George H. Thomas, and forfice, but was afterwards reinstated by President Johnson.

Bishop Wilmer was the author of "The Recent Past From a Southern Standpoint" and "Reminiscences of a Grandfather."

Payment Received for a Board Bill
Thirty Years Old.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL
Columbia, Mo., June 14—Mrs. L. H. Rice of this city, daughter of the late James E. Johnston, has received payment for a bill for board contracted in 1879 by a citizen of Monroe County, who boarded with her father. It was accompanied by this letter:
"Dear Madam: Inclosed please find check for $3. When I boarded at your house your father and myself did not agree on the time I was there. He claimed that I owed him 190, but I thought he was mistaken, but he was enoughed a was mistaken, but he was enoughed a portion of the tine time I was there. He claimed that I owed him 190, but I thought he was mistaken, but he was enoughed a number of severe bruises. He was engaged in repairing a portion of the tine to the contract of the house when the forter of the ho ceived a number of severe bruises. He was engaged in repairing a portion of the tin work in front of the house, when the foot of the ladder on which he was standing sank into a soft place in the ground, tilting the ladder to one side and causing it to slip sideways. Corooran fell a distance of twenty feet. He was taken to the City Hospital, where his injuries were treated. He is 41 years of age.

FAMILY'S NARROW ESCAPE—Daniel Cullman and his family narrowly escaped death from a fire which completely destroyed their home at No. 3501 Osage street about 2 o'clock yesterday morning. Some stranger in passing the house at that hour noticed a blaze in the lower part of the house and rang the bell. Failing to arouse any one he broke open the door and called to the occupants, awakening them in time for them to throw on a few clothes and escape from the house. An alarm was turned in, but when the firemen arrived the frame structure was too far gone to be saved. It is supposed the fire was started by the explosion of a coal oil lamp.
